

How do you celebrate being a Best Place to Work?

“Receiving this award for the fourth consecutive year is an honor. Our people are what make One Click’s winning culture, and this award is their making. I feel fortunate to work with such a talented group, and we will be planning a special way to recognize this accomplishment.”

*Randy Stocklin, CEO
One Click Ventures*

“We are honored to be named a Best Place to Work again in 2015. We know that this award would not be possible without our most valued asset: our employees. Their hard work, innovative thinking and desire to provide an ever-escalating standard of service is what makes our company great. To celebrate, we host an employee appreciation party that includes a free, healthy lunch and a banner signing.”

*Natalie Roberts, Senior Vice President
Monarch Beverage*

“Since our teammates are the most important asset to us at Eaton, we celebrate by shutting down the plant and hosting a recognition event. We reflect on the people and things that make Eaton South Bend such an amazing place to work!”

*Nick Buckley, Plant Manager
Eaton*

“Being honored as a Best Place to Work for the fifth consecutive year is reason to celebrate. Once we heard the news, we started celebrating throughout the office with high-fives. We’ll have a Happy BPTW day for employees with food, cake and presents. It takes a collaborative team to create a great place to work and all Apex employees deserve to celebrate. We uphold a ‘work hard, play hard’ culture – working hard for our clients while making time for fun. We enjoy celebrating our team, clients, community and successes. We look forward to enjoying another BPTW celebration event together.”

*John F. Gause, President and CEO
Apex Benefits*

“At Elements, we celebrate it every day. Being a Best Place to Work is about taking pride in who we are and what we do daily. We don’t participate in the process just to get the plaque on the wall and to say we’re the best. We take the employee feedback to heart and use it as a great tool to improve our workplace and its benefits and culture. We respect what it means to be on this list. And, yes, we do have a good time as a team at the annual awards dinner – and this year we’re excited to be the Best Places to Work reception sponsor too!”

Lisa Schlehuber, CEO Elements Financial

What has your company learned from participating in the Best Places to Work in Indiana program?

“The Best Places to Work award helps us to reconfirm where employees see value at Hanapin Marketing, as well as provide increased visibility into areas where we need to improve. We use the feedback report from the BPTW competition to determine our focus areas for the next 12 months and beyond. It highlights any potential disconnects we may have (quick fixes), as well as inspires us to improve on larger items over time. Overall, it is a testament to the company we have built and helps remind our team that they come to a great place every day.”

*Rebecca Reott, HR Specialist
Hanapin Marketing*

“FirstPerson exists to help businesses create meaningful employment experiences. Participating in and being named one of Indiana’s Best Places to Work shows that we live out that philosophy every day with our own employees. We want to model the practices we encourage in our clients, not only to show them what it looks like, but also because we know those practices will make our people stronger as individuals and as team members, and equip us as a firm to provide our clients with the best outcomes possible.”

Bryan Brenner, CEO and Founder FirstPerson

“Happy employees are the lifeblood of any successful company. Our goal is to exceed the expectations of our employees and place them at the forefront of our planning, decision-making and daily operations. We also strive to keep them engaged in the business and make them aware of strategic objectives, decisions and financial results. For the third consecutive year, the Best Places to Work in Indiana program has helped affirm that taking care of employees correlates with great employees and customers. It’s no surprise that Oak Street’s strongest years of growth and profitability coincide with our ‘Best Places’ awards.”

*Rick Dennen, President & CEO
Oak Street Funding*

“(The award is) extremely significant because it’s our employees who decided this, and they are the people who deliver on the bank’s promise and bring value to our customers every day. We’re thrilled and honored to be named to this list for the third year in a row. Like our customers, our employees are a very important bank stakeholder. Having a dynamic and positive work environment is key to being able to deliver on our ‘You First’ brand promise.”

Benjamin Bochnowski, President and COO Peoples Bank SB

“Our staff rocks!! The culture they promote drives our value to clients and this recognition is a wonderful validation of their success.”

Rick Conner, President, American Structurepoint

“We initially participated in the program to increase awareness of Capital Group as a relatively new employer in Indiana that was experiencing significant growth. We continued to participate even when our hiring slowed down because we found it instilled a great sense of pride in our associates. It’s gratifying to read associates’ comments about our culture, great benefits and the value we offer investors. And, we learn what’s on their mind so we can act on it and continue to improve our workplace.”

Barbara Soria, Human Resource Director Capital Group

What is the best part of being a Best Place to Work?

“We’ve always believed that a great design studio is a platform that gives a talented team the resources they need to create remarkable things together. The world-class work we produce, and now our 2015 Best Place to Work award, are a reflection of the extraordinary individuals that make up Studio

Science. Every one of our team members has helped build a culture of collaboration, ownership and excellence.”

*Nathan Sinsabaugh, Design Director
Studio Science*

“Heritage Petroleum is a great place to work. They have a purpose, a mission, that everyone understands. We all have a common goal. It is not just a place to work; it is a family. We support each other in all aspects of our lives, personally and professionally. I have trust in the people I work for and enjoy the people I work with.

You could not ask for a better place to work.”

*Jamie Orth, Government Contracts and Carrier Relations
Heritage Petroleum*

“Celebrating our recognition. The team camaraderie that comes along with being named a Best Place to Work is amazing. Every employee has a hand in making our organization one of the best places to work. It’s fun to see everyone celebrate the next day at work and share the news with their family and friends. It’s an honor to be very proud of and to celebrate.”

*Carrie North, Marketing Manager
Purdue Federal Credit Union*

“We are passionate about delivering diagnostic information to health care providers to improve patient care. Recognition as a Best Place to Work is an honor that allows us to acknowledge the efforts of our employees. We have an amazing culture at Orchard. As we continue to grow, it is employee creativity and innovation that make Orchard a special place. It is our teamwork that enables us to care for our customers while maintaining an industry leadership position. Knowing that our work is rewarding, challenging and meaningful is a privilege none of us take for granted.”

*Curt Johnson, Chief Operating Officer
Orchard Software Corporation*
