

Thoughts on projects involving downtown Terre Haute:

“The university is at the center of most of them and we’re excited.”

What you enjoy about Terre Haute:

Its size. Significant higher education presence. Friendly people

What you like to do in your limited spare time:

Bicycle riding. Going to the movies. Attending athletic events

What you would be doing if you weren’t a university president:

Overseas traveling. More bike riding. Spending more time with grandchildren

Television shows you enjoy watching:

“NCIS.” “The Amazing Race.” Public affairs programs

Favorite places you have lived:

Terre Haute. Fairmont, West Virginia. Butte, Montana

Dan Bradley Indiana State University President

“We want to grow the university and increase the graduate rate of our students. We want to redo our student housing. And, we have a campus initiative in the area of engagement and experiential education that we want to take to a higher level.”
