

Top reasons Evansville is a good place to do business:

Location. Quality workforce.
Progressive community.

Developments you would like to see in Evansville in the coming years:

The downtown stadium (arena) development completed. More inroads into the health, sciences and technology fields.

Biggest achievement in law career:

“Passing the bar exam. Without that, I’m nothing.”

If you weren’t an attorney, you’d be:

A professional golfer.

Top ways to spend a weekend in Evansville:

Running on the greenway at the riverfront. Going to the boat (Casino Aztar riverboat). Playing a round of golf at one of our nice golf courses.

Something most people don’t know about you:

“I’m a member of a secret baseball society known as the natural turf club. It’s a small group of guys that go to a different town and play on natural grass each summer.”

A close-up portrait of Marco DeLucio, a middle-aged man with short, light-colored hair, smiling warmly. He is wearing a dark pinstriped suit jacket, a light blue dress shirt, and a yellow tie with a small blue and white pattern. The background is a blurred office setting with bookshelves.

Marco DeLucio

Partner at Ziemer, Stayman, Weitzel & Shoulders, LLP

“I would say just having the opportunity to be involved at the start of exciting projects and having the door open to be involved in a lot of community initiatives (is the most rewarding part of the job). I think being a lawyer allows you to participate in community activities that you might otherwise not be able to do.”