

Family tradition

- Founded by brothers Hobart and Russell Creighton in 1925
- Business began on 38 acres in a reconstructed hog house
- Now in the fifth generation of family ownership

By the numbers

- 9,000 acres of farm ground
- 200 employees
- 3 million hens
- 1 billion eggs produced per year

Business from start to finish

- Oversee growing and laying farms
- Farm crops for feed production
- Operate a shell egg processing plant
- Distribute directly to Marsh Supermarkets

Philosophy

“We make sure we do our due diligence and keep high standards of farm practice in order to be a good neighbor.”

Home sweet home

“Indiana has a very forward-thinking business climate. Kosciusko County has always been a good place for us to do business.”

Creighton Brothers

A Family Touch in the ‘Egg Basket of the Midwest’

“Our special identity comes from our history and the longevity of our business. This is the ultimate self-made success story.”

- Mindy Truex, vice president, Creighton Brothers